FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R.V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

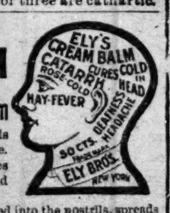
The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm



cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

TO CURE ANY DISEASE.

The Cause Must be Removed, Same Way With Dandruff.

Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff, and your hair must grow luxuriantly. Newbro's Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destoying the dandruff germs. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good," will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

SOME UNWRITTEN HISTORY.

Congressional eulogies are ordinarily colorless and perfunctory. Criticism and controversy are usually stilled when tributes of respect are paid by Senators and Representatives to departed colleagues. The eulogies on Mr. Gorman delivered last week in the Senate have perhaps attracted more than usual attention because they broke with that time honored custom. They frankly reopened a once acrimonious discussion and threw fresh light on an interesting passage in our political history. In reviewing Mr. Gorman's record Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Tillman both undertook to correct some prevalent misconceptions of the role he played in the remaking of the Wilson tariff bill and to repel the charge that in transforming that measure he was guilty of "perfidy and dishonor."

President Cleveland's famous letter to Representative Catchings, giving reasons for his refusal to sign the Wilson-Gorman act, has been taken, and undoubtedly was meant to be taken, as a philippic aimed at Mr. Gorman. The Maryland Senator, as chairman of the democratic caucus and head of the democratic "steering committee," was more responsible than any other one man for the amendments fastened on the House measure. The law as it stood on the statute book was more his work than Mr. Wilson's. But it was not his work alone, and the odium of its failure, Mr. Blackburn now tells us, was thrust on him unjustly by democrats "higher in authority" in the party, who thus sought to make him a scape-goat for sins of omission and commission for which they were equally indictable. Mr. Blackburn is positive and explicit. He says:

"The records of this Congress show that there was never a modification made in that measure, there was never a step taken in its revision or its remodelling, there was never an alteration proposed or carried into effect by the conference of this side of the chamber upon that tax bill which was not unhesitatingly approved and indorsed, pleaded for and demanded by those higher in authority than Mr. Gorman and myself, who afterward saw fit to denounce it and brand it with the brand of perfidy.

Mr. Blackburn was Mr. Gorman's lieutenant in the Senate. He was also the close political and personal friend of Mr. Carlisle, the Secretary of the Treasury under Mr. Cleveland, and what he says is a sweeping challenge of the sincerity of the administration and of the good faith of President Cleveland's reputation of the Senate tariff bill as a dishonorable frustration of "the counsels of the brave in their hour of might."

Mr. Tillman dealt more particularly with the history of the sugar schedule of the Wilson-Gorman act, and gave testimony in support of Mr. Gorman's own assertion twelve years ago on the floor of the Senate that Mr. Cleveland's campaign managers in 1892 had distinctly promised the Louisiana planters that if the tariff were to be revised under democratic auspices a duty would be levied on sugar. Moreover, it is well known that Secretary Carlisle urged the Senate leaders to amend the Wilson bill by taxing sugar, on the ground that the revenue would be needed. The Wilson measure as it passed the House could not have produced funds enough to support the government, and the imposition of a sugar tax was not only unavoidable but quite in line with the democratic party's policy of a tariff for revenue only. Yet the Senate's action was bitterly denounced by the Cleveland wing of the democracy, and its fulfilment of an obvious duty was condemned as the crowning atrocity of a record of "perfidy and dishonor." The Catchings letter caught the popular fancy and had an enormous currency. It blackened many political reputations and greatly accelerated the disintegration of the democratic party. Will it, however, continue to color history when it begins to be examined dispassionately and critically? Or will the popular estimate of its value have to be revised in the light of such testimony as that given by Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Tillman?—[New York Tribune.

The Nobel Peace Prize.

Senator Daniel has introduced a bill "to establish the foundation for the promotion of industrial peace" The purpose of the organization is to receive the Nobel peace prize awarded to President Roosevelt and by him devoted to forming the nucleus of a fund, the income of which shall be expended for bringing together in conference in Washington representatives of labor and capital for a discussion of industrial problems, with a view to arriving at a better understanding between employers and employes and thus promote industrial peace. The Chief Justice of the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and their successors in office, together with a representative of labor and a representative of capital and two persons to represent the general public, to be nominated by the President, are created trustees. The trustees are to invest and to reinvest the principal of this foundation, receive gifts and invest them and pay over the income from the foundation and its additions to a committee of nine persons, to be known as the Industrial Peace Committee, to be selected by the trustees. The peace committee is to arrange for the conferences annually and special conferences are provided in case of great industrial crises. It is required that all expenditures must be from the income and not from principal of the foundation.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater, & Sons, druggists.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 7, 1907.

MR. WILLIAMS, of Mississippi, has introduced a bill in the House to give the Court of Claims jurisdiction of claims for captured and abandoned property which was sold and the proceeds placed in the United States Treasury. The bill contains important features, differing somewhat from former bills on the subject, which have been proposed in the effort to dispose of the fund under the act of 1869, which amounts to about $9,000,000, and which the Supreme Court declared was a trust fund. The bill gives jurisdiction to the Court of Claims, notwithstanding any former suit to recover the proceeds of property seized by the government during the civil war may have been dismissed for want of jurisdiction, with the proviso that no proof shall be required of the loyalty of the claimant or of the original owner of the property seized or taken by the United States at the time of the seizure. The proposition is but just and proper and the bill should become a law.

THE year 1906 was a year of distressing eruptions and rivalries on sea and land but notwithstanding untoward circumstances, it is stated in the annual shipping review of Great Britain that the production of the British shipyards in merchant steamers aggregated about 1,800,000 tons gross—an increase over the preceding year of 200,000 tons. Deducting the tonnage lost or removed from registry, there was an increase of about 1,000,000 gross tons capacity in the British merchantile service. It will be noted from the figures that Great Britain easily holds her leading place among the great maritime powers. At the end of September last (according to Lloyd's) there was 1,223,031 tons of merchant steamers under construction in British shipyards—a slight falling off as compared with the previous year at that time.

MANY OF those who are now most active in urging war with Japan are the very ones who were loudest in their acclaim for Japan in the war with Russia, But there is money in war for some people and these are the ones that would bring about a useless conflict which would cost thousands of lives and millions of money that they might be enriched, though they would do no fighting themselves.

CHIEF MASTER AT ARMS DOUGLAS, of the U. S. cruiser Tennessee, now at the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, was shot and seriously wounded yesterday by James Burke, an intoxicated sailor, who was being placed under arrest. This gave rise to the sensational reports printed in the morning papers that there had been a mutiny on the Tennessee.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Feb. 7.

Sergeant Jerry E. Reeves, of Company D, 25th Infantry, continued this morning his testimony before the Senate military committee investigating the Brownsville affair. Senator Warner closely cross examined him as to the possibility of any man belonging to his division either dropping out or joining it during the maneuvers which followed the first alarm of the shooting. He said it was highly improbable that either could have occurred without his noticing it but admitted that if might be possible. Like the other witnesses he denied all knowledge of any "conspiracy of silence" and declared that he had told everything he knew of the occurrence.

Corporal Albert H. Roland, of Company D, said he had no suspicion of any man in his company, or in the battalion having engaged in the shooting and he was positive that he had withheld no information that he had on the subject. He was now employed by the committee of one hundred formed by the colored people for their defense by lecture or otherwise.

Expressions of appreciation of the relief supplies sent to Kingston by the American Red Cross have been received from Governor Swettenham by the officials of the Red Cross in this city. A letter from William H. Ornett, American vice consul at Kingston, was received here today inclosing a copy of Governor Swettenham's letter of appreciation and thanks, which was written January 26.

The Senate wishes to know whether Charles S. Hanks, the man whose recent investigations of the Interstate Commerce Commission proved a fiasco, has had any further government connections. Mr. Tillman presented a resolution in the Senate this afternoon, calling upon the Attorney General and Secretary of Commerce and Labor to inform it whether Hanks has done service for them, by whose orders he was employed and how much he was paid. It was adopted without objection.

Senator Frye was today authorized by the Senate committee on commerce to make a favorable report on the omnibus lighthouse bill which has just passed the House, adding thereto the bills for lighthouses and light tenders which have heretofore passed the Senate. The committee also authorized favorable reports on the bills appropriating $225,000 for a revenue cutter at New Orleans, and for a light ship at Narragansett, R. I.

The wide tire bill which passed the House last week is now before the Senate District of Columbia committee and is being opposed by all three District Commissioners, many of the business men of Washington and by many nearby residents of Virginia and Maryland. The opponents of the bill have placed their cause in the hands of Senator Daniel and seem confident that he will defeat the proposed measure.

John G. Rockwood, Secretary Taft's personal stenographer and confidential clerk died suddenly early this morning at his home 1215 East Capital street. During the past several years Mr. Rockwood has been associated in a confidential capacity with Mr. Taft. He was 28 years old.

It is announced in Washington that a special session of the Senate will be called after March 4 and that a new commercial treaty with Germany, the Dominican treaty and possibly a new convention with Japan will be submitted. The democrats in the Senate have served notice on the republicans that any attempt to press the Santo Domingo treaty at this session will fail. If it is to be ratified at all they say it must be done by republican votes and the republican party must take the responsibility. It is hoped that a new Japanese treaty or protocol covering the exclusion of Japanese laborers from this country may be negotiated in time for submission to the Senate in its special session but this is as yet uncertain.

W. J. Oliver, the lowest bidder for the Panama canal contract, and who submitted a new proposal to the Isthmian Canal Commission yesterday afternoon, called at the Isthmian Canal Commission this morning and, finding Chairman Shonts had not yet returned from New York, called on the Secretary of War. After a visit to the White House Secretary Taft stated that no decision would be made on the merits of the bid today, but later he would probably announce when the final decision might be expected.

An official statement issued at the White House today says that further consideration will be given to the Oliver-McDonald-Pierce bid for the construction of the Panama canal, as well as a hearing to those interested in the McArthur-Gillespie bid.

Plate printers and others employed in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing will appear before the House committee on public buildings and grounds tomorrow to urge the movement to erect a new building for this work. They claim that the present building is as bad as a sweet shop, is overcrowded and unventilated, and that these conditions are not only reflected in the character of the output, but impair the health of the men, and women employed there.

Dr. J. E. ones, U. S. Consul at Dalny, Manchuria, who is in this country on leave of absence, called upon the President today to present him with a rifle found in the hands of the skeleton of a dead Russian on 203 Metre Hill. Dr. Jones discovered the remains of the soldier several months after the surrender of Port Arthur.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 7.

SENATE.

The Senate this afternoon passed a bill providing for the appointment of an appraiser of merchandise for the district of Puget Sound, at a salary of $3 000.

Mr. Clay made another unsuccessful attempt to secure the adoption of his resolution calling upon the Secretary of War for information relative to the cost of the military establishment in the Philippines.

Mr. Clay said he purposed to follow this resolution up by one calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for a report upon what increases in the naval bill were due to the governments retention of the Philippines.

It was finally agreed, upon suggestion of Mr. Spooner, that the resolution go over until tomorrow. "I think the Senate will agree to modify its objectionable features," he said.

HOUSE.

Without delay the House immediately after convening today went into committee of the whole to consider further the rivers and harbors appropriation bill. It is believed the House will pass the bill before adjournment for the day.

The court was engaged yesterday in hearing arguments on the Eastern Hospital case.

The Rose of Jericho.

The late Professor Schele de Vere of the University of Virginia, in his "Leaves From the Book of Nature," draws a beautiful picture of the "Rose of Jericho," considered in the East to be an emblem of the resurrection.

The professor had expressed to an Arab Sheik his doubt of the Sheik's belief in the immortality of the soul. The Sheik made answer:

"Oh, brother; oh, brother, thou wrongest me!" and, quietly rising, he seized upon a little shapeless mass that lay half hid in the fragrant herbs at our feet, and gently pushing it into the purling stream, he added: "Has not God of our fathers, whose prophet is Mahomet, given us the Rose of Jericho? And does not my brother, who reads the books of the wise men of the Franks, know that the burning sands of the desert are its home, and that it delights in the fiery winds of the West, which scatter the caravan and strew the sands of the Sahara with the bones of the traveler? There it grows and blossoms, and our children love it. But the season comes again and it withers and dies. And the dread simoon rises and seizes the dry, shriveled roots, that my brother beholds there, and on the wings of the tempest the Rose of Jericho rides far, far East until it falls upon holy soil. Now let my brother wait, and he shall see!" And so those philosophers waited until the shadows grew long and dreamy, dusk covered mountain and plain. Then at last they saw the little shapeless mass return to life. The roots expanded, the leaves unfolded; life and breath had returned to the dear child of the Sahara, and the very blossoms began to show, and to rival the faint rosy tints of the evening sun.

News of the Day.

Today is the third anniversary of the disastrous fire in Baltimore.

Wm. J. Oliver, yesterday put in his completed bid for the Panama canal contract. The Fidelity Trust and Deposit Company of Baltimore is given as surety for $400,000.

Mr. Richard Olney's argument in a letter to Representative McCall that the United States cannot under the Japanese treaty exercise jurisdiction over the school regulation of California, or any State is attracting much notice. Moreover, the belief in Washington is that the administration realizes that the legal points in this controversy are not against the California people. The President and Secretary Root are not hopeful of winning in the courts the case involving the right of the San Francisco school board to segregate Japanese pupils.

Twenty persons were injured, five seriously, last night when an electric car on the Pittsburg Railways Company line between East Pittsburg and Trafford City jumped the track and plunged over a 15-foot embankment at Wall bridge, near Wilmerding, a suburb of Pittsburg. The car was bound for Trafford City with a load of employes from East Pittsburg. Without warning it plunged down the embankment, where it struck a ditch and stood on end, throwing the passengers in a heap at the front end. Most of the injuries were due to the victims' struggles to escape from the car.

In view of the fact that the triennial meeting of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church is to be held this year at Jamestown, Va., a number of Episcopal bishops have joined in formulating a protest against the alleged intention of the management of the Jamestown Exposition to make that exposition "the greatest military spectacle the world has ever seen." This protest is signed by the bishops of New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Colorado, Michigan, Oklahoma, South Carolina, North Carolina, Western Michigan and Asheville and the Bishop Coadjutor of Nebraska. It has been forwarded to the exposition management.

The Book Investigation.

State Librarian John P. Kennedy was again before the legislative schoolbook investigation committee in Richmond yesterday. Before entering into his defense he caused the room to be cleared of all library assistants, with the exception of the resident traveling librarian, F. B. Berkeley, who was called upon from time to time by the committee to give additional figures in connection with the testimony of Kennedy.

The nature of the defense was an attack upon the testimony given yesterday and at previous hearings by R. O. Bell, president of the Bell Book and Stationery Company. The conclusion as reached by Kennedy seems to be that the statements made by Bell show a lack of knowledge and sound judgement, and that they are not in accord with the facts in the case.

A dozen or more young ladies, members of the class in library work, which is instructed by Kennedy, were among the most interesting spectators at the inquiry, but these, too, suddenly found that they must depart with the male library assistants, at the request of the librarian, for reasons best known to himself. Assistant Librarian Evans approached them in a quiet way and in the most courteous manner conveyed the information that Kennedy desired them to withdraw. The young women, after retiring, expressed some indignation and a great deal of disappointment. Several, who were not members of the library class, were allowed to return to their seats.

Gruesome Statistics.

An accident bulletin issued yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the three months ended September 30 last shows the total number of casualties to passengers and employes while on duty to have been 19,850, as against 16,937 reported in the preceding three months. The number of passengers and employes killed in train accidents was 267, against 194 reported in the preceding three months. Fifty-two passengers were killed.

The total number of collisions and derailments in the quarter was 3,672 (1,891 collisions and 1,781 derailments), of which 269 collisions and 201 derailments affected passenger trains. The damage to cars, engines and roadway by these accidents amounted to $2,932,760.

The number of employes killed in coupling and uncoupling cars and engines was 81, being an increase of 13 over those reported killed in the last quarter.

Fire on a Ferryboat.

Fire was was discovered on the ferry boat Wilkes-Barre late yesterday as it was nearing its slip in the Central Railroad of New Jersey ferryhouse, at the foot of west Twenty-second street and North river, New York. The crew was quickly called to quarters, and confined the flames to the rear pilothouse, where they originated. No one was injured. There were 200 hundred passengers aboard, and when the fire broke out a rush was made for the shore end of the boat. The fire, which is believed to have been started by defective electric insulation, was whipped by the west wind to a brisk blaze, that soon enveloped the pilothouse. Fortunately, the pilothouse was at the rear of the boat, and the panic-stricken passengers crowded to the front deck of the boat, ready to leap ashore as the gangplanks were swung down. Railroad tugs soon surrounded the burning ferry boat and the fire was extinguished.

CONGRESSIONAL.

All the time of the Senate yesterday was taken up in discussing proposed amendments to the Indian appropriation bill, involving new legislation. No conclusion was reached.

The House consumed the session in consideration of the river and harbor bill, which was nearly completed. Advocates of a deep waterway from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico were defeated. Increases in salary for postal employes are included in the $209,416,802 postal appropriation bill reported to the House.

Virginia News.

The store and entire stock of goods of J. D. Pitts, on the Stafford side of the Free Bridge, at Fredericksburg, were destroyed by fire last night. Heroic efforts of a bucket brigade saved the Cool-Spring ice factory and Roache's mill. The loss is about $2 500, with small insurance.

Nott, a well-known Winchester merchant, who had been under treatment for nervousness, bordering on collapse from grief, because of his son's death, wandered from home shortly after midnight, and was found almost frozen to death about 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Death ensued before medical assistance could be summoned.

Argument on the matter of the issue of a writ of prohibition directed to Judge D. Gardiner Tyler, of the Circuit Court of the city of Williamsburg, and Dr. L. S. Foster, recently Superintendent of the Eastern State Hospital, was heard by the Court of Appeals of Virginia yesterday. The argument is apparently the last resource of Dr L. S. Foster and his counsel to stay the action of the General Hospital Board in removing him from the superintendency of the Eastern State Hospital, unless counsel can discover some Federal question upon which to base an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. Such further appeal is not regarded as probable.

The Thaw Case.

Evidence of the highest importance to the defense was brought out in the Thaw trial in New York yesterday and of equal significance was the marked contrast of the proceedings with the fiasco of the day before.

This served to focus attention on Delphin M. Delmas, from California, under whose guiding hand the conduct of the defense assumed a "safe and sane" aspect, such as was highly encouraging to Thaw's friends.

District Attorney Jerome's methods were much less strenuous, and it almost seemed as though he felt that he had met a worthy foreman in the calm and courteous, but cunning, man from the West.

When he started to browbeat a witness Mr. Delmas appealed to the court for courteous treatment of witnesses and the court agreed with him.

A threat on the part of Stanford White to find and kill the "Pittsburger" was testified to, Attorney Delmas answering Mr. Jerome's objection with the statement that he intended to take advantage of every legal defense allowed in the State of New York—"insanity, self-defense or any other legitimate justification of the taking of a human life."

That Thaw was considered "irrational" by several witnesses at the time of the shooting; that an uncle was insane; that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw passed a note to her husband during dinner the evening of the shooting, and that District Attorney Jerome has this note and refused to produce it at the demand of the defense, were also established by witnesses.

Mr. Jerome's refusal to heed the request for the note brought forth a veiled rebuke and a hint of discourtesy from Mr. Delmas.

The defense announced that either Thaw's wife or mother will be the first witness this morning,

A Dead Engineer.

The Congressional Limited train, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which left Washington for New York at 4 o'clock yesterday evening ran through Philadelphia last night at terrific speed, with the engineer, Joseph Toms, dead at the throttle. Shortly after the train left West Philadelphia the fireman, Harry Michner, noticed that the speed of the train was unusual. The train swayed as it rounded the curves, but the engineer gave no signal. Michner called to Toms, but received no answer, and when the train rushed through Fairmont Park and neared North Philadelphia, the fireman climbed over the big boiler into the engineer's cab, to find Toms dead, with his hand on the throttle. His head was hanging out of the cab window, and had been crushed by striking some object along the road.

Michner supported the dead engineer on his arm and brought the train to a stop at North Philadelphia, where a new engineer was secured and the train proceeded to New York.

Today's Telegraphic News

THAW'S WIFE ON THE STAND.

New York, Feb. 7.—Harry Thaw paced nervously up and down the narrow confines of the prisoner's pen, today, waiting to be called to the trial room. His face was ghostly and the dark splotches on his face only accentuated the chalky pallor of his skin. The Tombs guard said he had scarcely slept at all during the night. The skin was pinched about the cheek bones and drawn in tense lines about the mouth.

It was an eager, expectant crowd that filled the corridors of the court building from early morning and vainly sought to gain an entrance into the trial room. Scores of women, dressed in conspicuous fashion, pleaded for admission.

"Call Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw", said Judge Delmas. Through the side door of the court room came the figure of Harry Thaw's wife, pale and trembling. She was dressed in the same blue dress she has worn during the early days of the trial. Her veil was lifted for the first time.

In a voice almost firm she said her name was Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, that she was the wife of the defendant and was born Dec. 25. 1884.

"Where were you on the night of June 25, 1906?"

"I was at the Cafe Martin with my husband, Mr. McCaleb and Mr. Beale. We sat on the Twenty-sixth street side," replied the young woman.

"Where did you go after that?"

"To the Madison Square Roof Garden."

"What time was that?"

"I don't recall what time it was," said Mrs. Thaw.

"When did you first see Stanford White that night?" asked Delmas.

"I sam him enter the Cafe Martin at the Fifth avenue entrance and go out upon the balcony. I could not see him on the balcony. He remained on the balcony about an hour, I should say. When he returned he passed out of the entrance through which he had come in."

"Did you ask for a pencil?"

"I think I asked Mr. McCaleb for a pencil, but he did not have any; then some one else handed me a pencil and I wrote on a slip of paper."

"What did you do with the note?"

"I handed it to Mr. Thaw."

"What did he say?"

"He asked me if I was all right, and I told him yes," replied the former artist model.

"Was there anything else said?"

"No."

"I will ask you if this note contained any reference to Stanford White," asked Delmas.

The girl answered in the affirmative before District Attorney Jerome could object. The objection was sustained and the answer ruled out.

Mrs. Thaw said that the party left the Cafe Martin and went to the roof garden, not reaching there until the end of the first act. Evelyn said that while seated at the table Harry Thaw left the table and was gone about half an hour. She said her husband came back and they engaged in a conversation.

"What was his manner?"

"The same as ever," said Evelyn.

"Who suggested that you leave the theatre" asked Delmas.

"I think I did," said Mrs. Thaw, but we did not leave right away. Then some one else suggested that we leave. Mr. McCaleb and I left first and were followed by Mr. Thaw and Mr. Beale. They were close behind—about as far as the end of the jury box.

"I saw Stanford White seated at a table when I turned around. Then a moment later I saw Mr. Thaw."

"What was your husband doing?"

"He was holding his arms up, and as I saw him there were three shots fired."

"What did Thaw do then?"

"I don't know," said Evelyn in trembling tones. "I only know that Harry came toward me and I said to Mr. McCaleb, 'My God, He's shot.' Then I said to Harry, 'What have you done?' He answered 'I have probably saved your life.' Mr. McCaleb said something like, 'He must be crazy.' Then we took the elevator down stairs."

"When were you married to Harry Thaw?" asked Delmas.

"In April, 1905, in Pittsburg."

"When did he first propose to you?"

"In June, 1903, in Paris," replied Evelyn.

"Did you refuse?"

"Yes."

"In stating the reason for your refusal to Mr. Thaw, did you give any reason which connected you in any way with Stanford White?"

"Yes."

"What was that reason you gave Harry Thaw?"

"He came to me in Paris and told me that he loved me and wanted me to marry him. I stared at him and he asked 'Don't you care for me?' 'Yes, I replied,' and then he asked me the reason for my refusal. He put his hand on my shoulder and asked, Is it because of Stanford White?' I told him 'Yes,' and he sat down. Harry told me that he would be my friend for life, that he could never love anybody else and would marry me and no one else. I cried and then Harry asked me to tell him the whole affair."

"Well, now, I want you to tell of your first meeting with Stanford White, just as you told it to Mr. Thaw on that day," directed Delmas.

The show girl said that a chorus girl, Edna Goodrich, in August, 1901, asked her to a luncheon party where she would meet Stanford White. The young wife said her mother consented and with her friend she took a cab and went to a studio on west 24th street. The witness said the doors seemed to open of themselves.

"We went upstairs," said Evelyn, "and there I met a man who was introduced to me as Stanford White. I thought him an ugly man. There was a table already set for four. Another gentleman came later. I remember Mr. White teased me about my hair which I wore down my back and my short skirt, which reached to my shoe tops.

"After supper we went up two flights of stairs more and in the room was a large red velvet swing. Mr. White put me in the swing and swung me very hard. When we swung very hard one foot crashed through a large Japanese umbrella which hung from the ceiling."

District Attorney Jerome objected to this line of testimony but was overruled. Evelyn continued her testimony saying that after swinging, Mr. White suggested a ride in the park.

"The young lady and I went to a dentist after leaving Mr. White's studio," said Evelyn, "and then I went home and told my mother all about the visit."

Witness later described her intercourse with White in New York. On one occasion after she had posed in a kimona she retired to a room for the purpose of again donning her street attire when White knocked on the door and asked if she needed any help. She told him no. The story which caused the greatest consternation was the witness's recital of her experience during a visit to White's studio. She said; "No one was there except Mr. White and I told him I ought the go back home. He said I had better remain and have supper. After supper he told me that as I had never seen some of the rooms in the studio he would show me around. In one of these rooms was a piano and I sat down and played. The rear room was a bed room. I sat down and he opened a bottle of champagne and he prevailed upon me to drink. Then there came a thumping in my ears. About two minutes after things seemed to grow black and go round and round and round. When I awoke my clothes were pulled off of me and I screamed. I sat up and saw Mr. White undressed sitting on the edge of the bed. I screamed again and sat up in bed and then there was music all around the room."

Witness said White cautioned her not to tell her mother what had occurred.

The girl wept as she told her story and tears fell on her dress. Harry Thaw cried and held a handkerchief to his eyes during the recital of his wife's shame. * * * *

Witness said she and White sat up all night in that room.

"Did Mr. Thaw renew his offer of marriage after hearing that?" asked Delmas.

"Not that night. He said I was a poor unfortunate girl but that he did not think any less of me than he had done before."

Evelyn, with her face bathed in tears, said that two months after the last proposal Harry Thaw renewed his offer of marriage to her.

Witness told of her early life in Pittsburg. Continuing she said she had posed in Philadelphia and New York for several artists as well as for several magazines. She made about $17 a week.

Court reconvened promptly at 2 o'clock. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was recalled to the stand, continuing her direct examination by Judge Delmas.

After leaving the stand Evelyn Thaw went to an ante-chamber where she fainted.

Ex-Secretary Olney's Views.

Boston, Feb. 7.—Richard Olney, ex-Secretary of State of the United States, declared today in an interview:

"Japan has a perfect right to declare war with this country if she so chooses as a result of the school troubles in California, although, on the other hand, California is perfectly justified in the stand she has taken on the question, and the national government has no constitutional right to interfere with California's sovereign rights." In other words, the ex-Secretary of State, a recognized authority in international law, says that the golden gate state has a perfect right to make any laws it pleases for the government of its schools, even though they cause Japan to declare war, and yet the nation, the other 46 states, must be responsible, even to the point of going to war, for one state's acts.

Lake Steamer Believed to be Lost.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Two of the biggest steamers of the Goodrich line are lost in the ice floes of Lake Michigan and 200 persons, passengers and crews, are facing danger of death as the result of the inability of the captains to bring their boats into Chicago harbor. The vessels are: The Iowa, and the City of Racine, each carrying about fifty passengers. Members of all life saving stations along the lake shore have been notified to keep a sharp lookout for distress signals. It is now believed that both boats are in the middle of the lake. General Manager H. W. Thorp of the Goodrich Line said today that every expedient has been vainly used to get some news of the whereabouts of the vessels.

Chinaman Causes a Panic.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 7.—Kingston was thrown into a panic last night by the unexpected tolling of the great town bell, although the occurrence really was an occasion for laughter rather than fear. A Chinaman, believing that the government had offered a reward of 50 pounds to any one who would ring the bell without causing the tower, in which it is located, to shake, undertook the feat, choosing the midnight hour for the performance. At the first tap of the bell the residents leaped from their beds, imagining some fresh calamity impended. A few bolder spirits rushed to the tower and arrested the Chinaman.

The Marlboroughs.

London, Feb. 7.—All London knows today that the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough have reached a settlement of their domestic troubles. Yesterday the duchess, formerly Consuelo Vanderbilt, accompanied by her two sons, occupied a box at the Drury Lane Theatre with the duke's mother, the Marchioness of Blanford. They displayed themselves prominently during the performance. It was expected the duke would be in the party, but he failed to appear. King Edward is credited with being largely instrumental in establishing this domestic modus vivendi.

Threatened Revolution.

Caracas, Venezuela, Feb. 7.—A revolution in Venezuela is momentarily threatened. Failure on the part of government authorities to convince the people that President Castro is really recovering from his long illness has given great impetus to the movement started by his enemies to wrest the presidency from him. Preparations to meet any emergency have been made by Castro's friends. Troops are already on the move to danger points and attempts at revolutions will be dealt with severely.

Schooner Goes to Pieces.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 7.—The three-masted schooner reported ashore on Diamond Shoals, off Cape Hatteras, yesterday, went to pieces last night, and no trace of her can be seen today. The crew have in all probability perished. There were no less than ten to die. The wind continued very high, with a rough sea all night, and the life savers have no possible chance of reaching the doomed vessel. Nothing is known as to her name or destination. From her position in striking the shoals, she was evidently bound southward, probably to some Georgia port, to load lumber.

Death of a Philanthropist.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 7.—Count John A. Creighton, 75 years old, millionaire philanthropist, died here today of pneumonia. Creighton was made a Roman count by Pope Leo XIII. in recognition of his charity an gifts to Catholic educational institutions. With his brother he gave $1,500,000 to Creighton University $25,000 for the establishment of St. Josephs Hospital. He also founded a medical college, built St. Johns Church. Altogether Count Creighton's gifts amounted to upwards of $3,000,000.

Killed by a Train.

Elizabeth, N. J., Feb. 7.—R. A. Batson, twenty four years old, whose home is in Jersey City, employed as night telegraph operator and ticket agent for the Central Railroad at Roselle, was struck by an eastbound flyer in front of the station at 9 o'clock last night while attempting to cross the tracks to deliver a message to a westbound train. The body was tossed considerable distance and nearly every bone broken.

Dr Simpson Declared Not Guilty.

New York, Feb. 7.—A verdict of not guilty was brought in by the jury today, in the case of Dr. James W. Simpson, on trial at Riverhead, L. I., for the murder of his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner, some time ago. Mr. Horner while seated in his parlor was shot by Dr. Simpson whose defense was that the shooting was accidental.

Geneva, Feb. 7—Swiss creditors of "Elijah" Dowie, Zion City are being appealed to for assistance to rehabilitate the Holy City. A circular letter has been received by these creditors urging them to assist in organizing a company to carry on the city's affairs.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 7—There was a firm tone to the stock market again this morning and advances were made in nearly all stocks in which there was a fair amount of trading. The general list made gains ranging around 1 point in the early trading, but after the first show of activity, the market became dull and the latter fluctuations were so narrow as to be hardly worth noting.

A Complaint.

What protection has the property holders in this city at the present time? The Relief Hook and Ladder Company is without a driver; the regular driver is confined to his bed on account of sickness, and if an alarm comes in a policeman is detailed to leave his beat and drive the apparatus to the scene of the fire. The horses were given water this morning by a citizen who stopped at the truck house as he knew that the horses were nearly perished for drink, as they were continuously neighing and pawing. One of the horses kicked the door open and went to the hydrant to drink. If action is not taken immediately, I, as a citizen and taxpayer, will force an investigation and see why the Fire Wardens don't employ some one to drive the truck (while the regular driver is ill). As a rule that piece of apparatus is the first needed at the scene of a fire. It looks as if the Fire Wardens conduct the city's business in a loose way and such actions should not be tolerated by the community.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Marian Ballenger, in West End. Afterward Maj. and Mrs. King left on the 10:30 train for Washington, whence they left for an extended bridal tour in the North. Upon their return they will reside at the Ontario apartments, Washington. Both bride and bridegroom are well know in this city.

A very quite but pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening at half past 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Sykes, on Washington street, when their niece, Miss Jessie Elwood Cox, became the bride of Mr. Albert W. Locke, son of Mr. S. D. Locke, of this city. The ceremony was proformed by Rev. J N, Latham, pastor of Monumental M. E. Church. The bride wore a becoming traveling suit of brown cloth, with gloves and hat of the same shade, and carried a bouquet of bride roses. Her only attendants were her two sisters Miss Edna Cox, of this city, and Misses Leslie and Winifred Cox, of Alexandria. They were sweetly gowned and carried bridesmaid roses. Only intimate friends and relatives were present. Among those from away were the mother and father of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cox, of Alexandria. Directly after the ceremony the couple left for Los Angeles, Cal., where in the future they will reside. Mr. Locke has been for a time connected with the engineering department of the navy-yard, and Miss Cox has been a very popular teacher in one of the suburban schools.—[Norfolk Landmark.

Mr. Caton in Richmond.

"Yes, I expect to stand for re-election to the House of Delegates from the district composed of Alexandria city and county," said Colonel James R. Caton, who is here on legal business, when seen at Murphy's Tuesday night.

"A good many of my friends are kind enough," continued Colonel Caton, "to say that if I run I will have no opposition, but however that may be I expect to run."

"Do you think the general insurance measure under which the State Department is operating, and of which you were the author, will need a great deal of perfecting at the next session?"

"I do not think so, but some amendments may be necessary in order to perfect the measure. Commissioner Button tells me, however, that the law is working very well. I had to accept some features last winter which I did not like, in order to get the bill through. One of these is the chapter relating to fraternal insurance, I shall seek to amend this and others if I shall find such a course desirable in the interest of proper regulation, but I shall have the benefit of Colonel Button's suggestions before proceeding. Meanwhile he is having a fine opportunity to see the practical workings of the law."

"Will you again press your bill to distribute the taxes on the rolling stock of railroads among the counties and cities through which the lines pass, instead of allowing them all to be collected where the main office is?"

"I am not inclined to be a quitter," replied Colonel Caton: "I shall again offer the bill and press it. I stand just where I have always stood. I heartily favor the principle, and will fight for it again."—[Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Funeral.

The funeral of Conductor Cornelius P. Taylor, who died on Tuesday, took place this afternoon from his late residence, 1016 Prince street. The services were conducted by Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Church. The interment was made in Bethel Cemetery. The pallbearers were Conductors May, Wilkins, Pitts and Beckham, of the Southern Railway, and Messrs. C. J. W. Summers and J. E. Alexander. The funeral was attended by numbers of railroad men and other friends and acquaintances of the deceased.

To Visit Petersburg.

A meeting of Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, will be held tomorrow night at St. Mary's Hall, at which plans will be perfected for a trip to Petersburg on Sunday next, when the degree team will confer the first degree on a council to be instituted in that city. It is expected that a large number of members will accompany the degree team. Most of the members will leave here at 4:35 o'clock Sunday morning.

Nearly Asphyxiated.

Two colored women living on Wolfe street, between Washington and Columbus, had a narrow escape from asphyxiation by coal gas at an early hour yesterday morning. They were attended by Dr. Albert Johnson, who succeeded in resuscitating them.

Cold Night.

The temperature last night was lower than at any time this winter. The mercury at 7 o'clock this morning in thermometers believed to be correct stood at 6° above zero. The river was frozen over again during the night.

The mercury at noon stood at 26°. At 3 p. m. it registered 34°.

The steamer Washington arrived up from Norfolk about two hours late this morning. She reported having encountered heavy ice all the way up the river.

All the steamers save one of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia and the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Companies are tied up at Baltimore, owing to the cold wave, the steamers being unable to battle with the ice in the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. The steamer Calvert, of the Rappahannock River Line, is tied up. The steamers on the Potomac river route will also tie up, as there are some wharves on this line which they are not able to reach and the conditions are growing worse.

The steamer Northumberland arrived from Baltimore and river landings about six o'clock this morning.

The steamers on the route between Washington, this city and the lower river are tied up on account of the ice.

Death of Mrs. Schwab.

Mrs. Adolphine Schwab, widow of Frederick Schwab, died at her home on north Royal street at 8:20 o'clock this morning, after an illness of ten days. The deceased was born in Baltimore 58 years ago, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. John Baker. In early life she came to Alexandria and became the wife of Mr. Frank Schuman, by whom five children were born, one of whom was drowned while on a school excursion by the capsizing of a vessel off Jones's Point. Two children by Mr. Schuman—Mrs. J. B. Atwell and Mr. John Schuman—survive. By the marriage to the late Mr. Fred Schwab two daughters and one son survive. Mrs. Schwab's brother, Mr. Henry F. Baker, resides in Baltimore, and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson, in Washington.

A Seasonable Appeal.

The ladies in charge of the Co-operative Charities Association call attention to the fact that the present cold wave has so augmented the number of appeals made to them for assistance that they find themselves taxed beyond their resources. All contributions in aid of the work in which they are engaged will be judiciously used for the alleviation of the distress incident to the prevailing weather. There are many deserving people in the city who find the wolf at their door through no fault of their own, and to aid such through the winter is the aim of those who are in charge of the distribution of the necessities of life. It is hoped that this announcement will meet with the response it deserves.

A Handsome Testimonial.

Mr. T. F. Ellis, excursion agent of Luna Park, was waited on by a committee from the United German Societies of Washington, yesterday, and presented with a set of resolutions and a handsome gold badge, with the flags of their Fatherland and their beloved adopted home, the United States, and the following engraved thereon: "United German Societies of Washington to T. F. Ellis, October 3, 1906. Mr. Ellis had charge of their outing at Luna Park last October. He appreciates the gift and has it on exhibition at his place of business at the Mount Vernon Station in Washington.

Runaway.

A horse attached to a sleigh in which a gentleman of this city was seated became frightened on King street last night and ran away. The animal was stopped before any material damage to the occupant or sleigh resulted. The gentleman lost his eye glasses and a string of bells also disappeared from the horse's neck, while it was dashing down the street.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Joseph Thoms, colored, arrested by Officers Bell and Henderson charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Will Renumber Bouys.

Commander Lloyd, inspector for the Fifth Lighthouse district, has received authority from the Lighthouse Board to renumber the buoys in the Potomac river and tributaries. The work will be done in the spring after the ice ceases to give trouble. The new numbers will be placed on the new Potomac river charts, which this year will be lithographed, instead of engraved.

Attempted Robbery.

An attempt was made by thieves last night to break into Mr. W. H. Peck's store, corner of Queen and Payne streets. Glass was cut out of one of the windows, after which an attempt was made to break open the back door. The burglars, it seems, became alarmed at the noise they made and decamped.

Mt. Vernon Board.

Leadbeater, the hosts being Mr. and Mrs. John Leadbeater, who most charmingly entertained their guests. The pretty prizes were won by Mrs. W. J. Boothe, jr., Mrs. C. W. Ashby, Mr. C. C. Leadbeater and Mr. C. W. Ashby. The meetings of the club have been among the most delightful social entertainments of the season.

Tomorrow, Friday, Is REMNANT DAY.

Bargain Day. "Bargains" is generally understood to mean more than ordinary value, and nowhere is this better exemplified than here, especially on Friday, when extraordinary efforts are put forward by every manager in the house to rid his or her particular department of all remnants—odds and ends, short lengths, broken sizes, and assortments, &c.—thus insuring the shoppers the worth of their money many times over.

Bargain opportunities for tomorrow abound—and the goods are just such things as are needed now for personal use or the home.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contained here has had a warning printed on them against Opium and narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe Syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

All headaches go
When you grow wiser
And learn to use
An "Early Riser."
DeWitt's Little Early Risers, safe, sure pills.

Only a little cold in the head may be the beginning of an obstinate case of Nasal Catarrh. Drive out the invader with Ely's Cream Balm applied straight to the inflamed stuffed air-passage. Price 50c. If you prefer to use an atomizer, ask for Liquid Cream Balm. It has all the good qualities of the remedy in solid form and will rid you of catarrh or hay fever. No cocaine to breed a dreadful habit. No mercury to dry out the secretion. Price 75c, with spraying tube. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Endorsed by the County.

"The most popular remedy in Otsego county, and the best friend of my family," writes Wm. M. Dietz, editor and publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be an infallible cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the worst of them. We always keep a bottle in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for Lung and Throat diseases." Guaranteed to never disappoint the taker, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1.
